Dear Dr. Jolly Jacob,

Australian Academy for Health And Safety (AAHAS), an Australian-based training organisation, investigated various fruitful activities that can enhance the physical and cognizant effects of students and staff during the COVID-19 lockdown period. We found that Christ Nager College has organised several prolific and influential activities during the lockdown period, such as:

- Webinars and workshops
- Inter- & intra-collegiate competitions
- Teachers training and mental healthcare initiative
- Family engagement and palliative care
- Charity house construction and food distribution drive

AAHAS would like to appreciate the constant presence, diligent effort, and creative involvement of the college in the above activities during the unprecedented time of COVID-19.

We would like to give a special appreciation to:

- (i) Rev. Dr. Titto Varghese CMI, Manager and Director, and
- (ii) Dr. Jolly Jacob, Principal for their dedication to work, desire to experiment, find new ways of achieving goals, and out-of-the-box thinking. Their personal involvement is unparalleled to organise and manage the activities during this unprecedented global effort.

Best Wishes for all future endeavours of the college.
